Tanker Tells Story

VAIN EFFORT TO STEER CLEAR

London, Jan. 26. Two helmsmen struggled in vain to steer the Swedish tanker Divina clear of the Royal Navy submarine Truculent, a public hearing was told today. The two vessels collided on the night of January 12 in the Thames estuary, sinking the submarine with the loss of 64 of the 79 on board.

The log of the Divina's skipper, Captain Carl Hommerberg, was read this morning at an inquiry into the disaster by the Swedish Consul-

US Military Chiefs' Attitude To Formosa

Washington, Jan. 26. United States military chiefs told Senate foreign policy leaders today that they did not favour American military intervention to save Formosa, the last big stronghold of the Chinese Nationalists.

This was announced by Mr Tom Connally, Senator and Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee to which the military chiefs gave their views. The defence Secretary, Mr Louis Johnson, and the Calrman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Omar Bradley, had a three-hour closed-door session with the Committee,

Mr Connally said that the military leaders expressed the view that "while Formosa is of strategic significance to the United States if in the hands of an enemy, in the view of the Joint Chiefs of Staff its significance would not warrant the use of our armed forces to occupy it"

NO CONFLICT

He quoted Mr Johnson and General Bradley as saying that at no time had the Joint Chiefs of Staff or the Department of Defence recommended the occupation of Formosa by the United States.

Mr Johnson had "strongly pointed out" that there had been no conflict between the Departments of Defence and State about "basic policy objectives in that area", he added.

Mr Connally said that President Truman's statement on January 5 that the United States would not intervene militarily in the Formosa situation was approved and confirmed by the Defence Department. Answering reporters' questions, Mr Connally said that the question of sending a limited amount of arms ald or a millitary mission to Formosa had not been raised at the meeting .--

I fair held in Kowloon a few weeks ago was, by common consent, a highly successful enterprise. Hongkong's representation at the British Industries Fair, last year, was also a noteworthy achievement. Both contributed in no small way to bringing before oversens buyers the potentialities of the Hongkong manufacturing market, both in quality and relative cheapness. Partly because of the success of these exhibitions, partly because of the migration from Shanghai of Chinese industrialists, and also because of the stable conditions which prevail in Hongkong, the Colony today has more industries operating than ever before in its existence. Moreover, there is a keenness to compete in world markets and a willingness to make this possible by the introduction of modern machinery and decent working conditions. Hongkong can make it: at least Hongkong can make a wide variety of goods which compare favourably with similar products from other parts of the world, and our local manufacturers deserve all the encouragement that can be given them to pursue and intensify their enterprises. Yet there is still room for more initiative and more encouragement. It is, for example, astonishing that with so many and diverse industries established here that no permanent exhibition hall exists. Hongkong is daily being visited by business men, purchasing agents, and representatives of wholesale firms, seeking to discover just what our local manufacturers have to offer. There is no central point to which they can'turn for information or display. They must go through the laborious process of thumbing through trade or telephone directories, visit factories (where it is impossible to display finished products at their best) and generally speaking waste a lot of precious time (for many of them are here only for a few hours) to glean information which should be readily and handily available at some central point.

FITHE Hongkong Chinese Manufacturers' has now developed to a stage where a permanent exhibition hall would undoubtedly produce increased orders that would more than repay the initial construction expenditure and maintenance costs. And associated with such a hall there must be an Information Bureau through which visitors could obtain quick and accurate information as to the location of factories, their production facilities, their comparative prices with overseas manufacturers, and so on. This department, in due course, could be expanded to include a Hongkong Travel Bureau, by which the casual business visitor would not only be able to obtain immediate information affecting his official activities, but which could also give him ready and helpful guidance for the spending of his leisure time here. The cost of establishing such a centre, must, of course, be borne by the interested industrialists. It could easily be accomplished through a co-operative scheme. Secondly, Government would have to assist by making available a proper site. The obvious one is the area bounded by Nathan Road, Middle Road and Salisbury Road, where the Hongkong Chinese Manufacturers' fair is held. Admittedly it is one of the most valuable sites in Kowloon, but the undertaking suggested could become most important and valuable to the future welfare of the Colony. The assignment of part of this area, therefore, is not likely to be a bad -investment from the official point of view. Industrial Hongkong is an accomplished fact, but this new development of the Colony's life needs careful nurturing, allied with brave enterprise on a wide scale. Hongkong can make it, but Hongkong must also advertise it, and one of the most effective means of so doing would be the presence here of a central trade exhibition hall and information bureau.

IT REALLY HAS THE FLUID DRIVE—Patrolman Joseph Hartlaub and a wrecker prepare to rescue the almost totally submerged car of Guy Arnett, in Cincinnati, Ohio. Arnett parked atop the public landing by the Ohio River, and the car accidentally plunged into the river. To add insuit to injury, Arnett got a ticket for improper parking.

PRACTICE FOR THE ORANGE BOWL—Florida's crop of 61,000,000 boxes of oranges is almost as impressive as its annual crop of beauty queens. Brenda Parkinson, shown here in Miami, was an aspirant for Queen of the Orange Bowl, and she seems to have the requirements.

GETTING READY FOR THE RUSH—Rome is still busy to receive the pilgrims who will visit the city to celebrate Holy Year. Two hotels, to accommodate 1,200 pilgrims each, are being constructed at the end of the square facing the Basilica of St Peter's, and work on them should be completed in April.

YOUNG CHAMP—Richard D. Chapman, Jr., sevenyear-old son of the former United States amateur champion, inspects his putting chances in a junior golf tournament played in Pinehurst, North Carolina. The memorial trophy for young players was sponsored by the city's Chamber of Commerce.

Should The President Surrender?

London, Jan. 26.—The left wing weekly review, New Statesman and Nation, said today that on Presi-Truman's decision about the hydrogen bomb may rest the whole future of civilisation.

"Should the President surrender to the pressure of the Chlefs of Staff and give the 'go ahead' for the immediate production of the H-bomb?" the weekly asked. "Or should he listen to the urgent advice of Mr David illential, who reminded the Prosident of the latal conrequences which flowed from Mr Robsevelt's and Mr Churchill's decision to accept the advice of the soldiers and manufacture the

ALL HOPES THIS WEEK WILL BE ON IRC BEATING THE ARMY

BY "RECORDER"

Though Army stand a point ahead of Scorpions in the race for the Senior Division Championship of the Cricket League - presuming that Scorpions win both their postponed matches—the position at the top of the table does not permit them a draw in their meeting with the Indian Recreation Club on the latter's ground at Sookunpoo tomorrow afternoon.

All hopes will be centred on the Indians—at full strength—being able to upset Army. The Indians are capable of the feat and all that is required is that their batting and bowling are at their best.

On the Chater Road ground another needle match in the Championship race will be played in the meeting of Scorpions and Recreio. A victory for either side will leave the winners only in a challenging position to Army. A draw would be disastrous for either side.

Golf Is Being Played Far Better Today

Golf today is "far, far better" than 40 years ago. The man who says so certainly should know-James Braid, five times Open Champion, who will be 80 on February 6. "That, says he, is only because of the better clubs, which seem to me to make the game easier."

Braid, professional at Walton Heath since 1904, has no thoughts of retiring. He hopes to do his usual birthday round, and "I'll beat my age all right, I've just done another round of the course in 73,"

PHILIPPINES INDIVIDUAL WAR CLAIMS

Washington, Jan. 26 .--Chairman Daniel F. Cleary of the War Claims Commission, in an appearance before the House Appropriations Sub-committee today, estimated that 100,000 living ex-prisoners of war of the Philippines military forces and survivors of 35,000 deceased members of the Philippines military forces might have valid war claims totalling close to $40,000,000.

But he estimated that more than the number eligible would seek was claims payments. He pointed out over 1,000,000 pertains sought army recognition as guerillas, but only 260,000 viere recognised.

The War Claims Commission is authorised to use proceeds of the sale of German and Japanese importy to pay war claims to all living ex-prisoners of war, Smyrvors of deceased prisoners living in the United States, civilians interned in the Philippines and on United States Pacific islands possessions, and certain religious organisations

Mr Cleary, in addition to the estimated that 120,000 living ex prisoners of war and survivors of 13000 dead in the Upited States armed forces and 10,000 civilian internees might
